

"LUTHERAN DAY"

Was Sunday in Several of the Wheeling Churches.

THE DELEGATES TO THE SYNOD

Delivered Interesting Discourses to Large Congregations at Morning and Evening Services—Rev. Dr.
Schwartz's Able Sermon at English
Lutheran Church Last Night—The Synod to Conclude To-day.

Yesterday was practically "Lutheran Day" in the churches. Owing to the fifty-seventh annual meeting here of the Pittsburgh synod of the Evangelical Lutheran church, which concludes to-day, there were many ministers of this denomination in the city over Sunday, and they filled a number of local pulpits for one or both of the day's services. The ministerial delegates to the synod are a fine looking body of men, and their discourses were masterly efforts.

The evening service at the English Lutheran church, in which the synod is meeting, attracted a congregation last night that filled every pew. It was presided over by Rev. John Weidley, of Pittsburgh, president of the synod, and the sermon was delivered by Rev. J. W. Schwartz, D. D., of Worthington, Pa. A very fine musical programme was rendered by the choir, under the direction of Mrs. Herbert Rihelidaffer. A solo was sung by Mr. Charles Brand, accompanied by Miss Annie Israel, organist, and Mr. John Brockhardt, violinist.

Dr. Schwartz's discourse was a dogmatic one, the text being taken from the Corinthians. "A wise master-builder" was his theme. The foundation and the house were concerned in his theme, he said. In a theological sense, a foundation was one by which the theology should rise or fall. Careful, early training of the children was laying a good foundation. A wise master-builder would also preach to all men, for the gospel was not to be preached only to children.

Continuing, Dr. Schwartz said there was a prevalent idea that it mattered not what a man believed, provided he lived right. There were some doctrines a man must know, and it did matter what a man thought and believed. Speaking of a season for laying foundations, Dr. Schwartz said the essential truths of the gospel should be taught all the time. In this age the foundations of the faith were assailed from within and without the church, in which connection the speaker instanced heresies taught in certain divinity schools. So the need of wise master-builders, in other words, a good Christian ministry, active at all times in laying the foundations and the superstructure.

The superstructure pertained to the doctrines; the foundation, the fundamental truths. The need of a symmetrical Christian character was dwelt on effectively by Dr. Schwartz, whose logical and able sermon was interestingly listened to. It was thoughtful and suggestive, and especially appropriate as a synodical address, and to those just entering the ministry.

VISITING MINISTERS

Of the Lutheran Churches Preach
From Wheeling Pulpits.

Nearly all of the Protestant pulpits in Wheeling were occupied yesterday, by visiting ministers attending the Evangelical Lutheran synod. Unusually large congregations were out. The assignment of the visitors was as follows:

English Lutheran—Morning, Rev. M. W. Hamma, D. D., Washington, D. C.; evening, Rev. J. W. Schwartz, D. D., Worthington, Pa.

Vance Memorial—Morning, Rev. H. N. Folmer, Pittsburgh; evening, Rev. E. B. Burgess, Connellsville, Pa.

Second Presbyterian—Morning, Rev. Fuller Bergstresser, Allegheny, Pa.; evening, Rev. J. B. Markward, Wilkesburg, Pa.

Fourth Street Methodist Episcopal—Evening, Rev. A. J. Turkle, Allegheny, Pa.

Chapline Street Methodist Episcopal—Evening, Rev. S. J. McDowell, Sharpsburg, Pa.

Third Presbyterian—Morning, Rev. J. W. Schwartz, D. D., Washington, Pa.; evening, Rev. W. H. Nicholas, Apollo, Pa.

North Street Methodist Episcopal—Morning, Rev. J. C. N. Park, Leechburg, Pa.; evening, Rev. J. C. Nicholas, Chicago, Pa.

Zane Street Methodist Episcopal—Morning, Rev. S. T. Nicholas, Allegheny; evening, Rev. Shille Miller, North Hope, Pa.

English Lutheran mission, Thirty-sixth and Jacob streets—Morning, Rev. S. Kemp, Smicksburg, Pa.; evening, Rev. W. A. Hartman, Avonmore, Pa.

English Lutheran, Bridgeport—Morning, Rev. Eli Miller, Butler, Pa.; evening, Rev. E. R. McCauley, Pittsburgh.

First Presbyterian—Evening, Rev. Dr. Hamma, Washington, D. C.

United Presbyterian—Evening, Rev. H. S. Gilbert, Allegheny, Pa.

M. C. A.—Afternoon, Rev. Fuller Bergstresser, Allegheny, Pa., and Rev. J. B. Markward, Wilkesburg, Pa.

St. Paul's Lutheran—Rev. John Tomlinson.

Synod Ends To-day.

At Saturday's session considerable synodical business was transacted. The synodical appropriations were apportioned, and reports were received from the committees on the seminary debt, educational committee, catalogue of Lutheran educational institutions and on the missionary president's report. Officers will be elected to-day, when the synod concludes.

At Wesley M. E. Church.

Services held at the Wesley church were as follows: Preaching at 10:30 a. m. by Rev. L. F. Matter, of Kellersburg, Pa., and at 7:30 p. m. by Rev. M. S. Smucker, of Willet, Pa. These ministers are both members of the Lutheran synod, now in session at Wheeling, and they preached very acceptable sermons. The well wishes of the congregation follow them as they return to their fields of labor, and they will be welcomed at any time they may return.

trict, and his wife and children follow him to-day, leaving on the 10:35 train. Wesley church was never in a more prosperous condition than now. The Sunday school has an average attendance of about 300. The school paid during the last conference year as follows: For supplies, $42; on church incidentals, $25; on church debt, $60; on pastor's salary, $15; for missionary purposes, $50; piano purchased for use of school, $45; in all, $245. During the coming year it expects to do better.

AMERICAN PRINTING DISPLAY.

Contract Awarded for Publishers' Building at Paris Exposition.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Commissioner-General Peck has awarded the contract for a most important United States building at the Paris Exposition of 1900. The structure will be known as the Publishers' Building, and will be located in the new, or Esplanade des Invalides section of the Exposition grounds. In it will be made the displays of American printing houses, machinery, devices, appliances and supplies, such as machines for the mechanical composition of type, modern commercial printing office, various styles of color and book printing presses, platen presses, complete book-binding establishments and a large newspaper perfecting machine. In this building will be the general headquarters or rendezvous for United States publishers. Here publishers will be made to feel at home amidst familiar environments.

The Publishers' Building belongs to the Department of Liberal Arts, of which A. S. Capehart is director, and the building will be under the charge of Charles Harris Shuman, assistant director of liberal arts. Newspaper and other publishers are invited to send their publications to these headquarters during the exposition, and those who intend to visit the exposition next summer are requested to notify the Liberal Arts department of such fact, in order that they may be registered and certified to the proper French exposition officials.

SAMPSON QUITS THE SQUADRON.

Is Succeeded by Rear Admiral Farquhar—Old Canal Opened.

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 15.—At 8 o'clock yesterday morning Rear Admiral Norman H. Farquhar assumed command of the North Atlantic squadron, in Hampton Roads. His flag was run up on the cruiser New York, and every ship in the fleet, and also Fort Monroe, fired a salute.

Admiral Sampson, who retired left at once for Boston, to assume command of the navy yard.

The famous dismal swamp canal, which waterway was originally surveyed by George Washington, was formally opened to navigation yesterday morning. A naval procession of vessels went through the United States river, North Carolina, is twenty-two miles long, ten feet deep and eighty feet wide. There are only two locks, one at each end.

For over one hundred years the waterway was abandoned. In future all government vessels drawing less than ten feet of water and bound south will use the canal.

Murder at a Christening.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 15.—During the christening of a child to-day at Auburn, twenty miles from Springfield, a riot started between Hungarians and Poles, and Stephen Roskie, a Hungarian, was instantly killed. Several others are said to have been injured. Two men, believed to be the murderers of Roskie, are being held by the latter's friends. The sheriff and a posse have left to arrest the participants in the fight. It is said the foreigners will resist arrest, and serious trouble may result. The riot was the outcome of a feud of long standing.

Nutmeg State Victim.

STAMFORD, Conn., Oct. 15.—A Boston yacht on its way from New York to-day ran through a lot of burned wreckage, supposed to be from the Nutmeg State, that was burned Saturday, and near the wreckage the body of a man was found. The man was apparently about sixty years old and had a graying beard. The remains were brought to this city, and are at the morgue, awaiting possible identification.

Wants More of our Dollars.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Sir Henry Irving and Miss Ellen Terry, with their full company, sailed for the United States this morning on the Atlantic transport steamer Marquette, which is due to arrive in New York on October 25, or 26. To a representative of the Associated Press Sir Henry said he believed that he never visited the United States under more auspicious circumstances on account of the present good feeling existing between the two nations. He will open in New York in "Robespierre."

Kept the Sabbath Holy.

FARGO, N. D., Oct. 15.—About 250 delegates and officers of the National W. C. T. U., en route to the national convention at Seattle, are guests of Fargo to-day, in order to avoid the necessity of traveling on Sunday. The more prominent speakers occupied local pulpits to-day and this afternoon a mass meeting was held in the opera house, attended by 1,500 persons.

Didn't Drown the Ladies.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 15.—The Porte denies the statement telegraphed from Bucharest last week, that the Sultan had drowned in the Bosphorus several ladies of the harem, for alleged complicity with members of the Young Turkish party.

THE COLOR QUESTION

In Cuba—Cubans and Negroes Mixed up in a Quarrel.

HAVANA, Oct. 15.—A negro and two Cubans became engaged in a dispute in a cafe, and one of the Cubans raised the color question. The negro replied to the Cubans' remarks, and another Cuban named Acosta drew a knife and stabbed the colored man. Acosta then ran into the street and entered a neighboring house, into which he was followed by a policeman who attempted to arrest him. Acosta attempted to stab the policeman, but the officer drew his pistol and shot him dead. A crowd immediately gathered about the place, and when the facts became known, divided, the negroes on one side and the whites on the other. Much rancor and ill-feeling is expressed by the negroes against the whites.

El Diario de La Marina says that Mayor Locastola's order regarding the Spanish flag, has served forcibly to remind the Spaniards of the utter lack of personal guarantees under the existing conditions, and that the prudent, silent resignation of the Spaniards, far from being appreciated, has only served to encourage the rabble, not only in Havana, but in many towns in the interior, to further and more glaring acts of injustice, outrage, coercion and intimidation.

El Diario also says it has just received word that a number of merchants at Guinea have been compelled to abandon their property and seek safety elsewhere.

DEMOCRATS TO CONFER

At St. Louis To-day—National Chairman Jones Arrives.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 15.—Chairman Jones, of the National Democratic committee, arrived here this evening from New York.

Later a conference was held between Chairman Jones and Vice Chairman Stone, Chairman Johnson, of the executive committee; Sam D. Cook, Manager Devlin, of the press bureau of the national committee, and other prominent Democrats. The time was spent talking over the political situation, and the developments during Senator Jones' absence in Europe, and in arranging details of to-morrow's conference.

Among other business to be transacted at to-morrow's conference is the transfer to Chairman Jones of the affairs of the national committee, which have been in the hands of Vice Chairman Stone. It is believed that the Devil fight that has been engrossing the Democratic factions in Chicago will be taken up and settled.

Proof Against Electricity.

PLAINFIELD, Pa., Oct. 15.—Foreman Walter Bennett, of the Warren Fire Company, was found at noon to-day hanging from a live electric wire on the roof of the engine house, with a thousand volts running through his body, but the discovery was made in time to save his life. How long he was held there no one knows.

Julius Stahl, a Bremen, happened to go up the ladder, and saw Bennett grip on the wire. With a stick he knocked Bennett's hands from the wire. When he dropped he nearly fell off the roof of the building to the street below. Bennett took a charge of lightning once through a wire in a storm. He still lives.

Died From Her Wounds.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 15.—Mrs. Eva Harris, who was shot by her husband, Henry W. Harris, at their home, No. 15 North Striker street, last Thursday morning, died late last night at the Maryland hospital, where she was moved after being shot. Mrs. Harris did not regain consciousness after being taken to the hospital, which prevented Justice Smith from securing any statement from her as to the shooting. Harris has been committed to jail. Mrs. Harris was twenty-four years old, the daughter of A. V. Jones, of Renova, Pa. She was married to Harris about two and a half years ago.

Suffocated in a Hotel Fire.

HUDSON, N. Y., Oct. 15.—The Windsor hotel was destroyed by fire this morning, and Wallace C. Hall, a drummer for a Philadelphia publishing house, was suffocated. All the other guests escaped in their night clothes, on other words, to what they call automobiles. The porter of the hotel alone saved the lives of ten women. There were many narrow escapes. Loss, $50,000.

The Vanderbilt Will.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Senator Chauncey M. Depew was asked to-day when the will of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt was likely to be probated and he replied that the matter had not been decided by those directly interested. "No conference has been had in the matter," the senator explained.

Emperor William's Sympathy.

BERLIN, Oct. 15.—Emperor William has sent a long telegram of sympathy to Mrs. J. Bruce Ismay, at Liverpool, on her husband's illness, expressing the hope that Mr. Ismay will recover, "as he is one of the most prominent figures in the shipping world."

AMUSEMENTS.

When Mr. Charles Frohman secured J. M. Harris, the author of the famous novel, "The Little Minister," to make an adaptation for the stage, he thought that the play would be a success, but it has gone far beyond his expectations. This can be realized when it is stated as a positive fact that "The Little Minister" has been the success of the century. Everyone seems to be familiar with the novel and its type of characters. They are so peculiar that those who have read the story are naturally anxious to see what kind of a play the author has made of it. That he has succeeded admirably is shown by the fact that everyone with one accord praises it. Manager Fehner is highly delighted at having been able to procure it. It will be seen here on Wednesday evening, October 18, at the Opera House. That it will be greeted by an extremely large audience, and fashionable, is an assured fact. Reserved seat sale opens Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock at the Opera House office.

The Grand To-night.

Julie Walters, the versatile comedian, is to favor Wheeling with a visit in his new comedy drama, "How Hopper Was Side-Track," at the Grand, October 16, 17 and 18. Mr. Walters is known from coast to coast as a comedian of established ability. He possesses a voice which without labor or affectation is both commanding and penetrating. His impersonations adhere closely to the identity of make-up and costume. "How Hopper Was Side-Track" is said to contain a story which unfolds itself in a natural manner. Electricity plays a prominent part in the production, and the staging of the play is said to be phenomenally realistic.

"Two Jolly Rovers."

Leonard's "Two Jolly Rovers," a really funny comedy, introducing funny comedians and beautiful girls, will appear in this city at the Grand for three nights commencing October 19, and present one of the most laughable farces seen here in many days. John F. Leonard and Sherman Weiss, as the insurance agents of the Babcock Insurance Company, will insure your life at the Grand on the above mentioned date, and will charge you nothing. Once they insure you you belong to the insurance company, and that is straight insurance. And we assure you you will enjoy it if you see "The Jolly Rovers." Don't fail to come.

A Great Scene.

The new "Broken" scene that has been prepared for the farewell tour of Lewis Morrison's "Faust," this season, is pronounced to be the most weirdly beautiful ever placed upon the stage, and is not alone a masterpiece of the stage mechanic's skill, but a revolution also in the art of electrical effects. Never has there been unfolded such intricate and amazing scenes as are displayed in this scene. Owls hoot and flap their wings, vampire bats flit by in hideous silence, huge green almy snakes float through space, monster dragons appear emitting fire from their dilated nostrils, myriads of scintillating fire flies illuminate the chasm, satires sit in stolid silence, great and seductive dillies and goblins gyrate in demonic revelry. Mephisto in satanic majesty views with ghoulish glee this labyrinth of weirdness, and from the summit of the "Brocken" hurls thunderbolts at the poor mortals who have been banished to everlasting torment. The scene ends with the most novel and imposing pyrotechnic display ever presented on any stage.

AUTOMOBILES IN FRANCE.

A Distinguished Expert on the Long Distance Trials.

In the September issue of the North American Review is a very interesting paper entitled "Progress of Automobility in France." It is written by the Marquis de Chasseloup-Loubat, whom readers will remember as having visited this country with the members of the French Society of Civil Engineers during the world's fair, and of whom many have heard as an interested and intelligent student of engineering matters.

It is well known that the French have been persistent and enthusiastic in the application of mechanical power to moving vehicles over common roads, in other words, to what they call automobiles. M. de Chasseloup-Loubat describes in half a dozen of their long-distance trials. The tests have been severe, and the outcome of the whole matter is that the petroleum motor "is hardly relatively simple and readily run, and a disagreeable odor unless care and skill is used in regulation. There is some danger from fire also."

The petroleum motor carries so far built are a little feeble in starting, but "it is a good carriage for service in both city and country. For long runs it is actually the only one available." The steam road motor carries greater dead weight than the petroleum automobile. It needs a mechanic as fireman independently of the driver, its maintenance is complicated and difficult, but "it is relatively inexpensive, furnishes a steady power, can start up readily with a heavy draught and takes hills easily." For heavy traffic and broken country it seems to have its chief application. The electric carriage is simple in construction and easily run. It starts up quickly and takes heavy grades well. It is noiseless and without vibration. The dead weight is large and the length of time required to recharge the batteries is a serious drawback. "It is, par excellence, the urban vehicle, especially for passenger traffic, rather than for freight."

This brief summary of the opinions of the marquis, which are the result of much knowledge and experience, strikes one as being interesting and important.

BELLAIRE HAPPENINGS.

Matters of Interest in the Metropolis of Belmont County

Robberies are becoming quite frequent in this city and some of them are very bold. Last Saturday night two thieves entered the back yard of E. J. Steger's residence about 11:30 and broke the back door down. The noise aroused the family and Mr. Steger appeared at the head of the stairway just as the door fell in. The thieves doubtless saw him and disappeared in the darkness, for they were not seen afterwards. Mr. Steger remained on watch the balance of the night, expecting a return of the villain, but they didn't come back. Friday night the little home of John Culp, in Barnard's orchard, was robbed of $50 in cash, a gold watch and two gold rings and nothing is known positively of the thieves at this place.

Mr. Mahlon Craft, the jeweler, who has just closed out his business here to T. B. Phillips, had been in Bellaire nearly half a century and always commanded the highest respect as one of the best type of citizen. He was a constant reader of the Intelligencer, took the first copy (and has it yet) and has been taking it ever since. Mr. Craft will join his family at Warren, O., about the first of December, and will have the best wishes of all who know him.

It is now announced, though not officially, as yet, that Judge George K. Nash and others will be in this city on the evening of the 23rd and at that time there will be a big time for Republicans generally. A number of folks from here will go up to Martin's Ferry tomorrow evening, to attend the Thurston meeting, and there will be a big crowd at the Dougherty-Gill and Weems meeting at Bridgeport.

Mayor Freeze has been asked by the New York World to authorize his name to be officially attached to a petition to the President to take a hand in the war between the British and the Boers. The World is endeavoring to have the officials of Ohio help it place the President in an embarrassing position.

Hon. J. E. Blackburn, state food commissioner, came in from Columbus yesterday, and with his chief deputy, Martin Cowen, proceeded to investigate the political situation in this county. Mr. Blackburn is quite a hustler and takes to politics as naturally as a duck to water.

Hunter S. Armstrong, who is to succeed Hon. C. L. Weems as prosecuting attorney, has been through the interior of the county, and finds that the Republicans all through the rural townships are alive to the situation and the vote will be out.

The Republican vote of Belmont county in 1896 was 7,699, while last year they only polled 6,104. If there were 1,594 stay-at-home Republicans last fall, there will be fewer of them this year. It is a big year for everything in Ohio.

Rev. R. S. Coffey went to Barnesville Saturday evening and filled the pulpit in the Presbyterian church there yesterday, repairs being in progress at his own church here.

August Berwinkle was taken to the county jail to serve out a fine of $50 and costs, but the commissioners will probably turn him loose at their first meeting.

The Young Men's Club now occupy their new quarters over the First National bank, and the rooms are open every evening.

The mills, mines and factories in this section are all so busy now that they want more men than can be secured.

M. N. Mercer returned Saturday from a pleasant visit with relatives and friends at Chicago.

Court will adjourn after this week until the November election is over.

BRIDGEPORT HAPPENINGS.

Events of a Day in the Town at the End of the Bridge.

The Democrats of Pease township, outside of Martin's Ferry met in this city, Saturday, at the city building, for the purpose of selecting a candidate for land appraiser. At a convention held some time ago George Medill was nominated for the office and at a similar convention held in Martin's Ferry another candidate was named, thinking two were necessary, hence the reason of the second convention. A. R. Jordao was chairman, and Dr. M. D. Vosburg, secretary of the meeting. The name of George Medill was again presented and his being the only one he was easily nominated.

The marriage of Miss Katharine Young to George Melster is announced to take place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Young, at high noon, Wednesday, November 1.

The social and entertainment given Saturday evening by the Colored Baptist church, was largely attended and a neat sum was realized.

J. S. Holtz, who has been the guest of his brother, Rev. D. F. Holtz, left Saturday for his home at Newton, Kansas.

Mrs. Frank Berry has returned to her home in Sistersville, after a week's visit with her father, Judge Driggs.

Miss Sarah South, of Waynesburg, Pa., is the guest of her brothers, Taylor and Everly South, in this city.

The next attraction at the opera house will be a three nights' engagement, commencing November 2.

The members of the barbers' union are requested to meet at the shop of Oswald Schick this evening.

George and Frank Hathaway returned Saturday from a several days' hunt at Brushy Fork.

Mrs. Susan Neasum left Saturday for Syria, where she expects to make her future home.

The fire department will give a social and entertainment the latter part of the month.

The Aetna-Standard tin house will resume this morning, after a few days' idleness.

Mrs. Angeline Courtwright, of Freeport, is the guest of Mrs. Joseph Walerman.

The employees of the opera house will give a dance this evening at the opera house.

Seymour Danlevy, of Pittsburgh, spent Sunday with his family in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trueman spent Sunday with friends at Pittsburgh.

Jaeger Good, of New Matamoras, is the guest of relatives in this city.

Three Doctors in Consultation.

From Benjamin Franklin.

"When you are sick, what you like best is to be chosen for a medicine in the first place; what experience tells you is best, to be chosen in the second place; what reason (i. e., theory) says is best is to be chosen in the last place. But if you can get Dr. Incination, Dr. Experience and Dr. Reason to hold a consultation together, they will give you the best advice that can be taken."

When you have a bad cold Dr. Incination would recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy because it is pleasant and safe to take. Dr. Experience would recommend it because it never fails to effect a speedy and permanent cure. Dr. Reason would recommend it because it is prepared on scientific principles and acts on nature's plan in relieving the lungs, opening the secretions and restoring the system to a natural and healthy condition.
